

03 August 2009

To whom it may concern

3P Consulting recently embarked on contract negotiations with several Angola based companies and required the services of a Professional Translator.

Upon phoning the Portuguese Consulate for their top reference, Mari da Silva was recommended. On contacting Mari da Silva it was apparent that she was committed and professional. The terms of the first translation were negotiated (timeframes and cost) and documentation emailed through. The translation was done over a long public holiday weekend and returned a day before the deadline.

Since this 1st experience, all Portuguese / English and vice versa translations have been done through Mari Da Silva.

We would recommend her services to any private or corporate entity based on the experience we have had with her.

Kind regards
Edgar da Costa
Project Manager